At the National Prayer Breakfast [last] Thursday, event co-chairs Sen. James Lankford (R-OK) and Sen. Chris Coons (D-DE) joined together in a rare moment of unity in Washington to pray over President Donald Trump.

On the heels of the president's State of the Union Address, and in the midst of an especially divisive time in the nation's capital ... Lankford and Coons prayed for [President] Trump.

"Father, thank you for the way that you provide for us," Lankford began. "We pray that You would pour Your overwhelming blessing and wisdom on the president, on the vice president, his cabinet and his team. ANSWERED PRAYER: COURT RULES UNIVERSITY CAN'T KEEP STUDENT GROUP FROM REQUIRING LEADERS TO FOLLOW RELIGIOUS BELIEFS

Thank you Lord, for judicial decision, reflecting biblical values and the guarantees of the U.S. Constitution.

And the heavens declare His righteousness, for God Himself is judge. (Ps 50:6)

A federal court on Wednesday ruled that the University of Iowa can't strip a Christian group of its status as a registered student organization based on its requirement that leaders follow its statement of faith, which includes not having sex outside of a marriage between a man and a woman.

Judge Stephanie M. Rose of the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Iowa granted a permanent injunction that will keep the University of Iowa from rejecting the status of Business Leaders in Christ based on the university's human rights policy, which the university had cited in its revocation of the Christian group's status.

Rose's decision said the university unevenly applies the policy and still allows other groups to limit access to leadership or membership based on their religious views, race, sex and other protected characteristics.

"The Constitution does not tolerate the way defendants chose to enforce the human rights policy," the decision said. "Particularly when free speech is involved, the uneven application of any policy risks the most exacting standard of judicial scrutiny, which the defendants have failed to withstand." ...

"This victory reinforces the commonsense idea that universities can't target religious groups for being religious," he said.

The University of Iowa said in a short statement that it intends to abide by the decision....

The student group said it didn't discriminate because of the student's sexual orientation, but because leaders must abide by a "statement of faith" that prohibits sexual activity outside of marriage between a man and a woman. The group is open to members of any sexual orientation, they said.

The university later revoked the group's status as a registered student organization, which kept the group from participating in some UI events, using resources and getting funding. (Excerpts from Ian Richardson article in Des Moines Register)

COULD THERE BE A LEGAL LOOPHOLE TO ALLOW FUNDING THE BORDER WALL?

Pray for our leaders to work together to secure our borders and the fundamental privileges of U.S. citizenship.

For the Lord is our judge, the Lord is our lawgiver, the Lord is our king; it is he who will save us. (Is 33:22)

There is a law already in the books, 10 U.S. Code § 284, that allows the Secretary of Defense to assist in building fences to control drug smugglers along an international border. Could President Trump use this law to strengthen the border without going through Congress?

Click the link to read the entire section, but here is the pertinent language:

“(a)Support to Other Agencies.—The Secretary of Defense may provide support for the counterdrug activities or activities to counter transnational organized crime of any other department or agency of the Federal Government or of any State, local, tribal, or foreign law enforcement agency for any of the purposes set forth in subsection (b) or (c), as applicable . . .

(7) Construction of roads and fences and installation of lighting to block drug smuggling corridors across international boundaries of the United States.”

MAN ACCUSED OF MURDERING PREGNANT GIRLFRIEND ESCAPES ABORTION CHARGE DUE TO NY LAW

Heavenly Father, we ask You to restore our laws to protect life and to work in the hearts of all who lack Your perspective on life.

For God so loved the world that he gave his one and only Son, that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life. (Jn 3:16)

A Queens, New York, man accused of murdering his pregnant girlfriend had initially faced an abortion allegation as well, but prosecutors spared him that charge due to New York’s recently passed pro-abortion law.

Queens District Attorney Richard Brown initially charged Anthony Hobson, 48, with murder and second-degree abortion for allegedly stabbing to death his 35-year-old pregnant victim, Jennifer Irigoyen, on Sunday, the New York Post reported.

Hobson surrendered to authorities Friday and was charged with murdering both Irigoyen and her unborn baby....

Democrat New York Gov. Andrew Cuomo signed the Reproductive Health Care Act (RHA) on January 22, 46 years after the 1973 Supreme Court decision in Roe v. Wade, which legalized abortion.

New York’s law legalized late-term abortions, allowing doctors to perform the act “within 24 weeks from the commencement of pregnancy, or there is an absence of fetal viability, or at any time when necessary to protect a patient’s life or health,” according to the law.

The law also decriminalized abortion, removing it from the state’s criminal code and placing the offense under public health law.

Neither Cuomo nor his office has released a statement addressing the murder case. (Excerpts from Katherine Rodriguez article on Breitbart News)
