

Legal organizations that may be able to help protect your freedom

Resources for legal representation on a myriad of religious freedom issues

Who is fighting for your freedom?

If you choose to push back on legislation, overreach, and mandates legally, there are multiple resources to help you in that effort. Several legal organizations have forms that you can complete to apply for legal assistance on religious freedom issues. IFA is providing links to a few of these groups but we can make no guarantee as to the acceptance of your case or your legal results. We need to continue to pray for these legal efforts, for the groups litigating to protect freedom, and for the millions of Americans who are facing religious persecution and their removal of their Bill of Rights freedoms.

Alliance Defending Freedom

Advocating for religious freedom in a variety of instances.

- Request Legal Help | Alliance Defending Freedom \(adflegal.org\)

First Liberty Institute

Advocating for religious freedom in many instances, including vaccine mandates.

- Request Free Legal Help - First Liberty

Liberty Counsel

Includes information for vaccine mandate general religious exemptions, student religious exemptions, state and federal employees, medical personnel religious exemptions as well as religious freedom litigation.

- Legal Help - Liberty Counsel \(lc.org\)